QUALITATIVE DESCRIPTION OR SUMMARY STATEMENT

Pursuant to section 208(a)(9) of the D.C. FOIA, provide in the space below or as an attachment, "[a] qualitative description or summary statement, and conclusions drawn from the data regarding compliance [with the provisions of the Act]."

SUMMARY STATEMENT

The majority of FEMS' FOIA requests are for fire incident reports which are usually completed by the Fire/Arson Investigation Unit. If the cause of fire is deemed to be under investigation, the time frame to respond to a request is much more lengthy than required. An example report would be that of both the Eastern Market Fire and the Georgetown Library fires.

Primarily it is my recommendation that FEMS establish a fee schedule to obtain an actual copy of a fire report, the same as the Metropolitan Police Department does that charges a $3.00 fee to obtain an accident report. (Such a schedule will more than likely require the attention of the City Counsel).

Most fire reports average two pages. Although we could charge 25 cents per page to copy the report, it would cost more to actually process the fee than to receive it.
