I: DONATIONS

Due to the generous budget for Emancipation Day 2007, we did not solicit many donations this year. We requested and received permission through the Office of Partnerships and Grant Development (see Appendix A) to solicit donations of hotel rooms, so we could offer our guests quality accommodations without spending appropriated funds.

Hotel Rooms:

The rooms were used by awardees John Hope Franklin and Lerone Bennett, who came to receive DC Emancipation Day awards.

Community Awards Reception:

This year we combined the annual awards reception with a free community cook-out and concert, held on the grounds of the Lincoln Cottage at the Armed Forces Retirement Home, in Ward 5. The community cookout included food, tents, and restroom facilities for 400 people. Generators and sound equipment were rented for the free-to-the-public concert by Chuck Brown, who was also paid a stipend for his performance.

Award certificates were given to:

- Lerone Bennett and Dr. John Hope Franklin, two eminent historians who have contributed to the national discussions of emancipation and DC history;
- Dr. Josephine Pacheco, a local historian and author who wrote a book on the Pearl incident involving enslaved people attempting to escape in Washington, DC; and
- Donna Wells, a local research librarian who co-edited the book Legacy: Treasures of Black History.

The total cost of the Community Awards Reception was $50,482.78, with the largest portion being the cost of renting tents, tables, chairs, staging, and other associated infrastructure items. Airfare for two award recipients was purchased online, and was the least expensive available.

Emancipation Day Parade / Voting Rights March:

The heart of the 2007 DC Emancipation Day celebration was the Voting Rights March staged in place of the previously held marching band parade. The Voting Rights March was designed to draw attention to the fact that, although enslaved residents of the District were the "First Freed," the promises made on Emancipation Day in 1862 have yet to be fully realized. That is, District residents are continually treated as second class citizens by the United States Congress.

At the time Mayor Fenty was inaugurated, in January 2007, hopes were high for the future of DC Voting Rights in Congress, as they remain. To capitalize on the moment in which a newly Democratic Congress was in position to vote in favor of Voting Rights for DC, Mayor Fenty recognized that DC Emancipation Day was a perfect match for the current struggle for independence. The 145th Anniversary of the DC Compensated Emancipation Act would be marked with a march that drew upon the history of Washington, DC as the National Capital and traditional location of Civil Rights marches, and as the home of those "First Freed" by the federal government who celebrated their Emancipation in the streets of DC.

This event was a wonderful opportunity to work with the Council and DC agencies to rally District citizens to join the struggle.

Instrumental in the planning for the DC Emancipation Day Voting Rights March was DC Vote, which spent innumerable hours with its partners on raising awareness of the March. I thank all of the organizations DC Vote brought to this effort, who worked directly with DC Vote, not directly with the Office of the Secretary:

- Leadership Conference on Civil Rights
- Common Cause
- People for the American Way
- Akridge
- Alliance for Justice
- American Jewish Committee
- Americans for Democratic Action

- DC Chamber of Commerce
- DC Democratic State Committee
- DC for Democracy
- DC Million Mom March Chapter

- Gertrude Stein Democratic Club
- Jenner & Block
- League of Women Voters
- The Meltzer Group
- Metropolitan Washington Council AFL-CIO
- Moveon.org
- NAACP
- National Council of Jewish Women
- National Education Association
- Nonprofit Roundtable of Greater Washington

- TVOne
- Twenty-First Century Democrats
- W/TI
- Unitarian Universalist Association of Congregations
- Verizon
- Ward 3 Democratic Committee
- Woman's National Democratic Club
- YWCA of the National Capital Area

Because of all the outreach work done by DC Vote and its partners and sponsors, the majority of the expenses paid through this office – detailed below by vendor – covered the infrastructure, staging, and information needs for DC Emancipation Day. All services other than newspaper advertising were obtained through the normal procurement process.

- $14,824.92 for tents, sound, mobile restrooms, and the banner for the marchers;
- $18,230.00 for printing flyers, posters, program books, and brochures, which covered the entire week's activities leading up to an including the DC Emancipation Day
 Voting Rights March (see Appendix B);
- $ 21,128.60 for advertising and banners, including full and half page ads in six newspapers, and banners for the front of the John A. Wilson Building and 441 4th Street NW;
- $3,500.00 for music;
- $2,921.00 for services for disabled and elderly people, including sign language interpreters and bus transportation;
- $9,475.00 for the DC Office of Cable Television to create a 15 minute documentary about DC Emancipation Day which we will provide to community groups, schools, churches, libraries, and DC agencies to help educate the public about our history.

III. SUMMARY

The total spent for the week of DC Emancipation Day was $126,628.25. This leaves a remainder of $273,371.75 that was budgeted for 2007, but not spent.

Because the legislation that established DC Emancipation Day specifically forbids any remaining funds from returning to the General Fund, and permits the funds to be spent only for DC Emancipation Day activities, I anticipate that this total will be moved to the newly created Emancipation Day Activities program of the Office of the Secretary budget, and available for use going forward.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
COMPENSATED EMANCIPATION
WEEK 145th ANNIVERSARY
CELEBRATION

As Mayor of the District of Columbia, I am pleased to join with all residents to celebrate the 145th anniversary of emancipation in the District of Columbia.

Emancipation came to Washington, DC on April 16, 1862 through an act of Congress entitled: For the release of certain persons held to service or labor in the District of Columbia which was signed by President Abraham Lincoln. Most offers referred to as the "Compensated Emancipation Act," it made enslaved persons in the District the "Tirst Freed," nine months before President Lincoln issued his famous Emancipation Prodomation. It was the only time the federal government compensated shreholders for the freedom of enslaved persons.

Emancipation celebrations are recognized among the most important traditions in the African American community and have a long and glorious history in the District of Columbia. Annual celebrations were held from 1866 through 1901, and during the twenty-flist emancipation celebration on April 16, 1883, the great abolitionist frederick Douglass called attention to African Americans' continued struggle for civil rights.

As we celebrate the 145th anniversary of emancipation in the District of Columbia, it is important to recognize the contributions of Mrs. Loretta Carter Hones. Mrs. Hanes has worked tirelessly since 1990 to renew the celebrations of liberation and freedom in the District of Columbia. I thank her for keeping the spirit of Emancipation Day alive and well.

In the spirit of the struggle for freedom, this year Emancipation Day will be celebrated with a march to the Capitol to emphasize the District of Columbia's status as the last remaining vestige of taxation without representation in the Cangress of the United States of America. I invite all District residents to come march with me on this historic day.

Sincerely

Agnon M. renny
